5. Terms of Reference (ToR)

5.1 Introduction

- (1) India's vast maritime interests have a vital relationship with the nation's economic system. The country is immensely reliant on the ocean. The Government of India's vision of New India by 2030 enunciated in February, 2019 highlighted the Blue Economy as one of the 10 core dimensions of economic growth.
- (2) India's interest in the maritime domain broadly include:
  - (d) Uninterrupted access to resources, commodities and markets;
  - (e) Uncontested peace and stability in the Indian Ocean Region and safety and security of the coastal population;
  - (f) Unimpeded socio-economic progress of the nation and the prosperity of its people through the beneficent sustainable use of maritime assets and resources
- (3) In pursuance of the Hon'ble Prime Minister thrust on Blue Economy, there have been 4 major initiatives that included comprehensive deliberation on the issues and challenges in the Maritime sector.
  - (a) Maritime India Vision 2030 by Ministry of Ports, Shipping and Waterways
  - (b) Draft Maritime Policy by NITI Aayog
  - (c) India's Blue Economy- a draft Policy Framework by EAC-PM
  - (d) ADB Report on Promotion of Coastal Shipping in India
- (4) It has been observed that presently there is no single national agency for coordination and integration of maritime activities that fall under diverse domain - maritime ocean and coastal economy, infrastructure, environment, energy, diplomacy, safety and security, ocean technology and resources, shipping, international law, culture and tourism, island development etc. These issues are presently dealt with by several ministries, authorities, agencies and departments individually. Further, both the reports have suggested for cohesive maritime/ocean governance framework to ensure communication, coordination and clarity between multiple stakeholders and multiple level of administrative authorities and coastal communities, for achieving better outcomes. This will avoid work in silos and duplication of efforts.
- (5) India's regional leadership responsibilities require it to be a net provider of safety, security and stability in the Indian Ocean Region, including Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief. Sophisticated maritime information networks such as Information Fusion Center– Indian Ocean Region (IFC-IOR) and diplomacy backed with commensurate force levels, including hydrographic capability, together with structured coordination with other maritime powers at forums such as the Indian Ocean Naval Symposium (IONS) and Indian Ocean Rim Association (IORA), becomes necessary to meet this growing maritime responsibility and proactively shaping international regulations.

- (6) SAGAR – Security and Growth for all in the Region was articulated by Hon'ble Prime Minister in March 2015 in Mauritius. It provides a platform for different stakeholders to integrate their vision and goals into a synergized approach to realize India's maritime potential.
- (7) The size of the Blue Economy in India has been estimated to be about 4% of the Gross Domestic Product. Globally, blue economy has grown faster than economy sectors not directly connected to blue economy, in last decade. Blue Economy offers high potential for next stage growth, resources and job creation but with commensurate challenges. Advancing framework of participation of private sector and coastal communities in blue economy, using science-based tools to ocean management and uses of oceans and coastal areas, and setting priorities are some of the immediate concerns.
- (8) In order to address the emerging needs and concerns as outlined above, a Blue Economy Coordination Committee (BECC) has been constituted which has 6 clusters:
  - (a) National Accounting Framework
  - (b) Marine Fisheries, Aquaculture and Fish Processing
  - (c) Logistics, Infrastructure and Shipping (including transshipments)
  - (d) Coastal and Deep-Sea Mining, New and Renewable Offshore Energy and R&D
  - (e) National Coastal Marine Spatial Planning Framework (CMSP)
  - (f) Security and International Engagement

5.2 Group on Logistics, Infrastructure and Shipping (including Transshipments)

- (1) 'Logistics, Infrastructure and Shipping (including transshipments)' is one of the functional cluster identified for leveraging of Blue Economy and accordingly a Group to drive initiatives in this domain and to support BECC has been constituted. In this regard it is also noted that Ministry of Ports, Shipping and Waterways (MoPSW) has recently brought out 'Maritime India Vision 2030' that has identified 10 key themes -many of which involves multi-stakeholder involvement having implication to progress of Blue Economy.
- (2) The Group is entrusted with the responsibility of preparation of an Action Plan for transformational change in the Logistics, Infrastructure and Shipping (including transshipments) in coordination with stakeholder Ministries/ Departments. The initiative will be driven by the nodal Ministry/ Department identified for the Group. The action plan shall be prepared within three months from the constitution of the Group. Post the preparation of the action plan, the Group shall undertake steps to ensure its effective implementation.
- (3) A total of 13 Working Groups have been constituted by MoPSW for deliberations & preparing a roadmap with specific implementation plan on the work area designated to them. Each Working group consists of a Group Coordinator along with members from various ministries, departments, State Govts and other stakeholders.

- (4) The Term of reference of these working groups inter alia relate to capacity building, maritime cooperation and promoting investments for:
1. WG#1: Bridging the gap between the functioning of Indian Maritime Administration and the priorities of International Maritime Organization (IMO).
  2. WG#2: Building partnerships and enhancing maritime cooperation with India Ocean Rim Association (IORA) member States and Bay of Bengal Initiative for Multi-Sectoral Technical and Economic Cooperation (BIMSTEC).
